accès champs solaire

principal

The diagram illustrates a secondary access path. A thick red curve represents the primary path, which is intersected by a thin black line representing the secondary access path. The area between the two paths is shaded grey. A green arrow points along the primary path, and a red arrow points along the secondary access path. The text "accès secondaire" is written diagonally across the image.
